Risky Business,

The DVD shows Clarence in several different episodes beginning with his attempt to find the "perfect sanctuary chair." It moves through several scenes.

Humor aside, VanSlyke says he and his wife particularly enjoy working with first-time home buyers. "We like to help them make a wise choice. These days, too many people are stuck so heavily on keeping up with the Joneses. We try to keep them from doing that."

Humor is his calling card. "I'm not going to change. I am who I am," he says with an unapologetic chuckle. His customers know that full well, and they know he is accomplished enough at his trade that they come back to him time and again. VanSlyke says he has a number of customers who have used him for up to six real estate transactions.

With work weeks running 50 to 60 hours, does he laugh all the way to the bank?

Says VanSlyke: "No, I pay my bills and make other people laugh. That's enough for me."

CHARITABLE BUSINESS

Help County's Food Pantries at Harvest Home Tour

Homes & Homesites is the organizer for a charitable event that will offer relief to Hendricks County food pantries on Nov. 5-6 from noon to 5 p.m. during the Harvest Home Tour in Windridge Landing, Brownsburg, 650 E and 700 N, west of SR 267.

All donations dropped off at the Harvest Home Tour will be divided up among Hendricks County's food pantries – and gives free admission to the tour. In addition, anyone bringing a donation to the food drive will be entered to win a $500 gas card.

The following food pantries will benefit:

Cornerstone Christian Church, 8930 N. S.R. 267, Brownsburg, 46112
Kingsway Christian Church, 7979 E. C.R. 100 North, Avon, 46123
Light and Life Free Methodist Church, 8264 E. C.R. 100 South, Avon, 46123
Messiah Lutheran Church, 801 S. Green St., Brownsburg, 46112
St. Mark's Episcopal Church, 710 Buchanan Street, Plainfield, 46168

Becky Harris of Homes & Homesites says the idea to organize the charity came after reading an article in the Hendricks County Flyer, which reported that local food pantries are in short supply of food. Harris says using the tour is a good way to bring exposure to the fact that food pantries in Hendricks County need food year-round, not just for the holidays.

"My hope is that people will continue to participate year-round," she says. And, just well before the tour she says the organization of the charitable event has "been rewarding already."

The tour will feature several high-end custom homes and will be open to the public. Participating Home Builders are: Cambridge Custom Homes, DBH Properties, LLC., Floyd Custom Builder, Inc., Gehring Group of Indianapolis, Gunn Homes, Homes by Ronnie Thomas, J.R. Lazaro Builders, Inc., PGL Enterprises, Inc., Quaylynn Homes, Inc., and S&R Custom Homes.
